

Mural painting by Carlos Magano at FEUSP - The march of human knowledge - 1956

School of Education at the University of São Paulo

• FEUSP

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM – PEDAGOGY

São Paulo

2017

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM – PEDAGOGY

The Pedagogy Program licenses Pedagogues with a bachelor degree, providing broad theoretical foundation as well as solid teaching practice required for professional performance.

It is a four-year and a half program and the pedagogue majored here is an educator in the broad sense. This education provides “a theoretical and practical repertoire of information and abilities whose consolidation will be achieved in the professional career, standing on principles of interdisciplinary practice, contextualization, democracy, social relevance and adequacy, ethics, as well as affective and esthetic sensibility.” (BRASIL, CNE/CP 1/2006). Thus, we believe that knowledge of the school as an organization whose aim is to contribute to building a more equitable society is an essential requirement for a solid pedagogical education.

The Pedagogy Program, in 2016, has 865 enrolled students.

Career Opportunities for Pedagogues

- Pre-school teacher, early elementary school teacher, high school teacher;
- Principal and principal assistant for several institutions, including kindergartens and pre-schools;
- Education counselor in all institutions and levels of Basic Education;
- Pedagogical coordinator in different levels of Basic Education;
- School supervisor in state or municipal public systems;
- Principal of kindergartens and pre-schools;
- Principal of education at the state and municipal public system;
- Specialists to work in several institutions serving children, youth and adults with disabilities, pervasive developmental disorders or high ability - population of special education.