

Mural painting by Carlos Magano at FEUSP - The march of human knowledge - 1956

School of Education at the University of São Paulo

• FEUSP

INTERNATIONAL

São Paulo

2017

INTERNATIONAL

School of Education Internacional Office (CCInt - FE) aims to provide students, faculty and staff with support and opportunities to take part in selection processes and one-semester courses from well-known universities around the world. USP and FEUSP maintain a wide array of 32 institutional agreements with colleges and universities located in Asia, Africa, Latin America, North America, Middle East and Europe. Such agreements comprise all areas of enquiry, offering a wide range of study and research possibilities.

Current students may attend courses abroad up to one semester. Faculty members may choose between short-term staying, split-site PhD program or postdoctoral research. Staff members, in turn, may apply to short-term activities aimed at professional growth and development. Students, faculty members as well as staff members may apply to any of our partner international institutions.

For further information, please visit www4.fe.usp.br/en/international/home

International Office Commission

School of Education International Office (CCInt - FE) aims to internationalize the School of Education and its undergraduate and graduate courses through agreements with national and international colleges, universities, and research centres.

Exchange students

1. Mobility

The students of universities that have agreements* with the University of São Paulo School of Education (FEUSP) may participate in the mobility program in the field of Education.

For undergraduates, we have a Pedagogy course and a Teaching Degree course (Teaching Degree in specific content as Portuguese, French, History, Geography, etc).

We also have graduate degrees, a Master and a Doctorate Degree in Education.

*For graduate students internships, it is not necessary to establish an international academic agreement. For undergraduate students it will be necessary at first, but we can begin the process of an agreement when students are recommended.

1.2 Mobility for undergraduate students:

The recommendation of students must be made by the International Office from the Home University. The deadline to recommend students is May 30th for the 2nd semester (August/December) and November 15th for the 1st semester (February to June).

The first step that should be done to recommend a student is to fill the application form.

Then the student will receive an email and must complete the online application attaching the following documents:

- Application Form Filled and signed
- Recommendation letter written by a professor from the home university;
- A photo 3×4 cm size;
- Official Transcript of Records and its simple translation into Portuguese, English or Spanish (signed and stamped by the home university);
- Copy of passport.

1.3 Mobility of graduate students

For graduate students, the following documents are required:

- 1) A recommendation letter (in Portuguese) of a Thesis Supervisor from the Home University addressed to the Thesis Supervisor from FEUSP;
- 2) Letter from your Home University proving as a Graduate Degree student;
- 3) Research plan (in Portuguese) with start and end date ;
- 4) Schedule of activities (in Portuguese) that take place in FEUSP;
- 5) Copy of passport.

The application deadline is February to June for the second half of the year and August to November for the first half of next year.

For intership over 3 months, the student will be registered as Exchange Graduate student.

1. 4 Other type of programs

- PEC-G

Program developed by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Ministry of Education in order to offer training opportunities than citizens of countries with which Brazil maintains educational and cultural agreements (especially in Africa, Latin America and the Caribbean).

- PEC-PG

Program of cooperation with countries from Africa, Asia, Oceania, Latin America, Middle East and the Caribbean. This program aims at increasing qualification of professors, researchers and professionals.

2. Portuguese language

- USP offers a online Portuguese course (basic level A1) for all the Exchange Students, once is accepted. The student can begin the course before she/he arrives to USP.
- We offer Portuguese Language Tutoring (Center for Studies and Research on Language Teaching – CEPEL). Local: Room 11 Block B. It's necessary a previous booking by e-mail: inco@fe.usp.br

3. Interaction in Foreign Language

- We have Faculty members who speak other languages and who can assist the students in short summaries, answer questions and indicate some literature in the languages they understand.

4. Housing

- The University of São Paulo does not have accommodation for foreign students. . On the Student guide (item 8) there are some housing suggestions.

5. USP iFriends

It is a program in which volunteers students of USP may help foreign students with the following activities:

- Assistance in finding accommodation;
- Reception at the airport;
- Assistance documents for foreigners;
- Academic orientation;
- Assistance with the Portuguese language.

Foreign students recommended by the home university can enroll in the program.

6. Dining plan

- The University of São Paulo has dining plan for all the students enrolled. Each meal costs: Breakfast R$ 0,50. Lunch R$ 2,00 Dinner R$ 2,00.