ATTACHMENT – JUSTIFICATION FOR THE OPENING OF PUBLIC TENDER-TEACHING POSITION INDIVIDUAL WORK PLAN

Teaching goals

The candidate hired for the position will give, at least, classes in 2 courses each semester related to : EDA0674 - Work and Education in Brazilian Society, EDA1221/0221 – Politics and Organization of Basic Education I, EDA1222/0222 – Politics and Organization of Basic Education II and EDA0463 – Politics and Organization of Basic Education in Brazil.

These courses can be mandatory or elective depending on the program, as they belong to both the Pedagogy degree program and the Teaching degree program offered at FEUSP.

Moreover, the hired candidate will supervise 60 hours of mandatory internship activities and 20 hours of practicum activities, as well as take part in programs such as PUB, PEEF e PAE. The candidate will also supervise TCCs (Final-Conclusion assignment paper) and ICs (Scientific Initiation activity). The candidate is also expected to contribute to curricular, bibliographical and pedagogical updatings.

Concerning quality indicators and deadlines, the candidate must follow the career profile established in the Academic Project of FEUSP which demands, in the first five years of work in the institution, an integration with the diverse activities developed at FE, a connection with research groups from CNPq and participation in the academic life of the institution as a representative in internal and external Committees.

Research and Innovation goals

The candidate hired for the position should contribute to the evaluation and formulation of public policies in the area of Social Pedagogy, adopting an intersectoral and interdisciplinary perspective. To this end, the candidate should develop disruptive and innovative research on topics related to the right to work and the right to education in educational public policies. In the first 5 years of work, the goals set forth in the FE's Academic Project are expected to be met, including at least 3 ongoing supervisions, participation in 3 panels, selection processes, competitions, issuance of opinions or scientific advice, 3 publications and participation or coordination of a CNPq research group, completion of a post-doctorate and participation or coordination of a research project.

Culture and Extension goals

The work in the position is expected to impact society through the dissemination of knowledge, participation in the Network Teachers Program and USP 60+, in addition to lectures, consultancy and extension projects, especially those related to the extension activities and the continuing education of basic education teachers.

Expected impact of the hiring

The hiring will have a direct impact on teacher professional development, research, innovation, culture, outreach and the formulation of public education policies in the fields of Work and Education. This area of EDA covers Pedagogy and 17 other undergraduate courses, in line with USP's Teacher Education Program. It will also contribute to the restructuring of the teaching staff and to the expansion of EDA's leadership, with more funded projects, greater capillarity of research networks and national and international protagonism. Thus, it will strengthen the institutional mission and vision, by promoting the development of critical and creative education professionals.
